Title: National Webinar on Understanding Climate Change on the Occasion of World Environment Day

Introduction: A national level webinar on understanding climate change was organized by the Department of Zoology in association with the IQAC of Sarojini Naidu College for Women to commemorate the world environment day on 5th June 2022.

Objective: Climate change is a topic of immense contemporary importance. It is a scientific fact we cannot deny. Human activity is believed to have accelerated the pace of climate change over the past century. Hence it is important to increase the understanding and awareness of this topic. Several models have been built to quantify and predict climate change, but there have been various challenges associated with each model, making it difficult to predict the precise extent of climate change, especially over a short time span or in a small region. The webinar dealt with modelling climate change and the challenges associated with it.

Content: The program started with the welcome address delivered by Dr. Urmila Ukil, respected Principal of Sarojini Naidu College for Women, followed by address by Dr.Sudeshna Chatterjee, respected coordinator of IQAC of Sarojini Naidu College for Women. After introduction of the speaker, the webinar lecture was delivered by Dr. Subhadeep Halder, Assistant Professor of Metereology, Department of Geophysics, Banaras Hindu University. Dr. Halder is an active researcher in metereological phenomena related to climate change, and he explained in a lucid way the difference between weather and climate, and several approaches that have been used to model climate. Challenges that may be associated in modelling climate change over a small region or in predicting climate change over a short time span were discussed in details. The talk was followed by a discussion session in which several questions were put forward to the speaker by the audience, and Dr. Halder explained the answer to each question in a very detailed manner which was easy to understand. The program ended by the vote of thanks delivered by Dr. Mala Bose, Head of the Department of Zoology, Sarojini Naidu College for Women. About 273 people from different institutions and states across India participated in the webinar.

Outcome: The topic of the webinar is of great contemporary significance and it is important to raise the level of understanding and awareness on this topic. The webinar helped participants from diverse fields to gain an insight on how climate change modelling is done. All participants responded positively and gave a good feedback about the webinar, and indicated their willingness to attend webinars on similar topics in future.
